Hi Marion,
I've some answers directly but will have to wait for a couple of others.
The Loop was down and had been for a while (possibly a year) but it is now fully functional both in the Bill Marris and the Hall. It was tested 2 weeks ago and is on 24/7. As I understand it Hearing Aids automatically pick up that the loop is there, there are no instructions and as such apparently easy to use.
The Tech advances question I will find out shortly.
It sounds to me that it is something that we do need to keep and make sure it is functioning continually.

regds,
Ross
