News from your community hall . . . . .

Hello Dear Hall Community,

The Hall Society is pleased to be hosting The Mapua Market. A team of dedicated volunteers have been busy planning the next market which will be on Sunday 16th May with applications for interested stall holders open between 15th March - 7th April. Please email MapuaMakersMarket@gmail.com with any enquiries regarding the Mapua Market.

New classes starting here at the Hall as we look to encourage our tamariki to benefit from the wonderful facilities and talent we have here locally in Mapua. Kerry Clark Dance has been running this term and is super popular with the 3-7 year old's, there may still be spaces available for any keen movers who want to come and give it a try. In term 2 we welcome Rachel at Fun Creative as she brings her wonderful Fun Creative Drama to the Hall for classes running after school on Thursdays. Please get in touch with me at the office or with Rachel directly to register your interest, details with the flyer below.

Planning is again underway for our ever popular PechaKucha night on Friday 21st May, tickets available from next Monday 15th March, either at the Hall office or email MapuaHallSociety@gmail.com for payment details. More local ticket outlets will be available soon.

A very big Thank You to Barbara and the team at Crest Clean, who over the past few months have donated over $500 worth of cleaning supplies to the Mapua Hall as well two new coffee plungers for the kitchenette! We are very grateful for this ongoing support from a local business.

Stay safe & take care

This weeks movie review:

St. Vincent

Chemistry can make all the difference in a film, St. Vincent wasn't a great film because the story was out of this world. In fact, it wasn't even all that original, but the fantastic chemistry between veteran Bill Murray, and newcomer Jaeden Lieberher makes all the difference.

After a bitter divorce, Maggie & Oliver have been forced to move to a new neighborhood, where they find their new neighbor is a bitter old drunk named Vincent (Murray).

Vincent wants nothing to do with anyone, until chance throws him together with Oliver, who he reluctantly agrees to watch in exchange for money.

But what does he know about taking care of a kid? Vincent splits his time between the bars, the horse track and the strip club, running up long tabs at each of those splendid establishments.

When his harried new neighbor begs him to watch her son after school, he sees no reason why he shouldn't drag Oliver along on his normal daily routine, serving as sort of a shitfaced Mr. Miyagi to the kid, who's getting picked on by the little hellions at his new Catholic school.

Instead of showing Oliver "The crane," Vincent teaches him how to break a bully's nose, and the next day in dodgeball, the lad puts his lesson to use.

I always enjoy seeing how young actors and actresses got their start, and this film stars Bill freaking Murray, need I say more?
